AUGUST 9 – AUGUST 13

EXISTENTIAL QUESTIONS REGARDING LIFE ISSUES AN INTEGRATED AND INTERCULTURAL APPROACH

A smart way to spend your summer

Have you or one of your clients ever had questions about your or their own existence? The kinds of questions that seem to have no clear, straight-forward answer? In life, we face many existential issues such as death, freedom or loneliness, that can be very difficult to deal with. It might cause anxiety to even think about them. However, to a large extent, our well-being depends on the way we handle the questions we have.

With our course, we intend to help students explore these existential questions, guide people in life issues, deal with the cultural context of existential questions and develop elements of integrated care.
